date of expiry of validity period, consequently, the renewal of the said license was declined by the respondent. Hence, the present appeal.

Sh. Satish Kumar, TA appeared on behalf of the respondent. He submitted that the appellant has not applied for the renewal of his licence in prescribed period as envisaged in Fertilizer (Control) Order, 1985. He further submitted that the appellant deserves no sympathy and appeal is liable to be dismissed.

Sh. Ashwani Kumar, Partner appeared on behalf of the appellant. He has admitted that the license could not be got renewed in time due to illness of his wife.

I have heard both the parties and perused the relevant record.

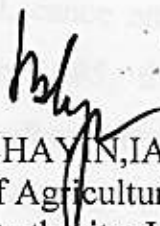

Admittedly, the appellant could not apply for renewal of the Fertilizer Licence No. 1767/R/KKR before the expiry of the validity period or within one month from the date of expiry of the validity period due to illness of his wife. The explanation given by the appellant does not appears to be genuine and sustainable, however, after taking a lenient view the delay is condoned.

In view of the above, I, M.Shayin, IAS, Director of Agriculture, Haryana exercising the Powers of Appellate Authority under The Fertilizer (Control) Order, 1985, accept the present appeal and set aside the impugned order dated 11.05.2015 subject to the payment of penalty of Rs. 4000/- (Rupees four thousand only) within a period of 15 days from the receipt of the copy of this order.

I order accordingly.
